INTRODUCTION

On June 6, 2014, the Securities Administrator of the State of Washington issued a Statement of Charges and Notice of Intent to Enter Order to Cease and Desist, to Impose a Fine and to Charge Costs, S-10-026-13-SC02 (Statement of Charges) against Respondents, Catalyst Management Group, LLC, d.b.a. Catalyst Investment Club; Jeffrey M. Slowik, a.k.a. Jeff Slowik; Michelangelo Viliami Domine, a.k.a. Miki Domine, and Rollin P. Shatto, a.k.a. Rollie Shatto. Pursuant to the Securities Act of Washington, RCW 21.20, the Securities Division of the Department of Financial Institutions (“Securities Division”) and Respondent Rollin P. Shatto, a.k.a. Rollie Shatto, do hereby enter into this CONSENT ORDER in settlement of the matters as set forth in the Statement of Charges and as alleged below. Respondent Rollin P. Shatto, a.k.a. Rollie Shatto, neither admits nor denies the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law as stated below.

FINDINGS OF FACT

I.

Respondents

1. Catalyst Management Group, LLC (Catalyst), d.b.a. Catalyst Investment Club (the Club), is a Nevada limited liability company with its principal place of business in Maple Valley, Washington.
2. Jeffrey M. Slowik (Slowik), is a co-managing member of Catalyst and a resident of Maple Valley, WA. Slowik has been licensed with the Washington Office of the Insurance Commissioner as an insurance producer, license number 249906, since 2009.

1 3. Michelangelo Viliami Domine (Domine) is a co-managing member of Catalyst and a resident of West Covina, California.

2 4. Rollin P. Shatto (Shatto) is a Washington resident. Shatto was formerly licensed with the 3 Washington Office of the Insurance Commissioner as an insurance agent, OIC#266510 from 2006 to 2011 and the
4 Washington Dept. of Financial Institutions-Consumer Services Division as a loan originator, #510-LO-35870, in 2007.

5 II.

6 Nature of the Conduct

7 Investment Pool/Investment Club

8 5. In 2008, Respondents Slowik and Domine offered to Washington and other state residents an 9 investment scheme in which they pooled the investors' money into a communal account for the express purpose of 10 investing in a variety of investment options. Respondents described the investment pool in marketing materials as the 11 Catalyst Investment Club (the Club). Respondents Catalyst Management Group, LLC, Jeffrey M. Slowik, and 12 Michelangelo Viliami Domine were to make investment recommendations to and decisions on behalf of investors in the investment pool/Club and receive compensation in the form of management fees and other fees for managing the group's investments. Respondents were to receive 30% of the net profits of the investment pool/Club.

13 6. Respondents Slowik and Domine recruited investors in person, by word of mouth, and through the 14 distribution of a flyer that explained the purpose and goals of the Club. Slowik and Domine did not contribute any 15 capital to the investment pool/Club and recruited at least seven individuals to invest funds through the investment
16 pool/Club. At least five of the investors were Washington residents, one a California resident, and one a Nevada 17 resident. At the time of investment, no formal structure was created for the Club and no meetings of the Club were held. Most investors never had any form of contact with one another. Investors did not participate in the management of the investment pool/Club or in the purchase and sale of investments made on their behalf.

18 7. Respondents Catalyst, Slowik, and Domine recommended two different investments that were 19 purchased by investors in the investment pool/Club. The first was what Respondents described as "bond investments"
20 and the second was a "medium term note." Collectively, the Respondents raised at least $1,500,000 from investors 21 through the investment pool/Club. Respondents collected at least $175,000 of investors' funds as their compensation for managing the "bond investments" and medium term note transactions.

22 Finder's Fee

23 8. Respondents Catalyst and Slowik paid Rollin P. Shatto, one of the Washington investors and a former 24 co-worker of Slowik, a "finder's fee" for recruiting investors to the investment pool/Club. Shatto's finder's fee was 25 based on a percentage of the money invested by others with the investment pool. Slowik paid Shatto a finder's fee on four separate occasions for a total of approximately $1,246.

Bond Investment

9. Slowik and Domine distributed a one page document entitled “INVERSE FLOATER BOND INVESTMENT” to prospective investors. In the document, Slowik and Domine represented that “Historically, the club has seen gross returns of 2 to 5 percent, with the broker’s intention to sell the bonds on the clubs [sic] behalf if returns should fall below 1.5% on a given month.” Slowik and Domine stated that the qualifications for the investment required membership in the Investment Club and required a minimum $100,000 to a $2,000,000 maximum investment. However, Catalyst represented that, as the Managing Director, it could pool an investor’s money with other members to purchase a bond. Slowik and Domine did in fact pool investors’ money into a single account in order to purchase “bond investments.” Investors’ money was initially transferred into a personal account for Slowik at the Andrew Garrett brokerage firm and later transferred to an account at the firm that was later created for Catalyst.

10. Respondents Slowik and Domine paid themselves approximately $100,000 in fees for management of the investment pool/Club bond investments.

11. The Respondents solicited at least $875,000 from seven investors for bond investments from 2008 to 2009 and had returned approximately $727,000 to investors by February, 2014. The balance available to be distributed to the investors is estimated to be at less than $3,000 at the end of February, 2014.

Bond Anti-fraud violations

12. Respondents Catalyst Management Group, LLC, Jeffrey M. Slowik, and Michelangelo Viliami Domine misrepresented to investors that the Club had historically seen gross returns of 2 to 5 percent when they had no basis in fact for such a statement.

13. Respondents Catalyst Management Group, LLC, Jeffrey M. Slowik, and Michelangelo Viliami Domine represented to investors that they would use registered brokers in purchasing investments, but paid Rollin Shatto approximately $1,246 in finder’s fees for recruiting investors and relied on the advice of and paid to California resident John Terence Baxter, a.k.a. Terry Baxter (Baxter) approximately $70,000 in commissions and fees in connection with “bond” purchases. Neither Rollin Shatto nor John Baxter was registered as a broker-dealer or a securities salesperson with the Securities & Exchange Commission or with any state securities regulatory authority. John Baxter was not registered as an investment adviser with the Securities & Exchange Commission or as an investment adviser or investment adviser representative with any state securities regulatory authority.

14. Respondents Catalyst Management Group, LLC, Jeffrey M. Slowik, and Michelangelo Viliami Domine failed to disclose material facts to investors regarding the risks of bond trading, such as market, interest rate, and prepayment risk.

Medium Term Notes

15. In 2009, Respondent Domine contacted one of the Washington investors in the investment pool/Club regarding the opportunity to invest in a “medium term note” that Domine represented was going to yield between two to four per cent on a monthly basis. Domine told the investor that the investor would pay a reduced management fee for the investment. The Washington investor invested $625,000 in “medium term notes.” Catalyst deposited the investor’s money into a one of its bank accounts. Domine withheld $55,000 and forwarded the remaining $570,000 to a third party located in Hawaii. The investor has not been repaid his investment.

Medium Term Note Anti-fraud violations

16. Respondent Domine misrepresented to an investor that the medium term note investment was going to yield between two to four per cent on a monthly basis when he had no basis in fact for such statement.

17. Respondent Domine did not provide the investor with the material information about the investment such as the upfront fees that were to be taken out of the investment, the background of the issuer, the persons managing the investment, the risks of the investment, and issuer financial information, including financial statements.

III.

Registration Status

18. Catalyst Management Group, LLC, Jeffrey M. Slowik, and Michelangelo Viliami Domine are not currently registered to sell securities in the state of Washington and have not previously been so registered, nor have they filed a claim of exemption from registration.

19. Jeffrey M. Slowik, Michelangelo Viliami Domine, and Rollin Shatto are not currently registered as a securities salesperson or broker-dealer in the state of Washington and have not previously been so registered.

20. Catalyst Management Group, LLC is not currently registered as an investment adviser in the state of Washington and has not previously been so registered.

21. Jeffrey M. Slowik and Michelangelo Viliami Domine are not currently registered as an investment adviser or investment adviser representative in the state of Washington and have not previously been so registered.

Based upon the above Findings of Fact, the following Conclusions of Law are made:
