9 Nature of the Offering

10 7. In July of 2012, a Washington resident, Purchaser A, received a telephone call from a Money Now Funding representative, who offered Purchaser A the opportunity to start her own business and work from home as an agent of 11 Money Now Funding. Specifically, the representative told Purchaser A that Money Now Funding lends money to 12 small businesses based on the business' average merchant credit sales. The representative stated that Money Now
Funding would pay Purchaser A to put small businesses in contact with Money Now Funding. For a fee, the Money 13 Now Funding representative represented that Money Now Funding would provide Purchaser A with business leads and 14 extensive training. Purchaser A declined the offer, but she continued to receive calls from Money Now Funding representatives, from whom she ultimately purchased a Money Now Funding business opportunity for $25,000.

15 8. In July of 2012, Purchaser A received a call from a Money Now Funding representative who went by the name 16 of Nicky Ross. Mr. Ross encouraged Purchaser A to pay to become an agent of Money Now Funding. For Purchaser A 17 to become an agent, Mr. Ross stated that Money Now Funding would form a limited liability company for Purchaser 18 A, and as an agent, Mr. Ross told Purchaser A that she would be responsible for contacting small businesses, through her own limited liability company, and encouraging them to seek loans from Money Now Funding.

19 9. For a $20,499 payment to Money Now Funding, Mr. Ross represented to Purchaser A that Money Now
20 Funding would provide Purchaser A with a number of services. Upon payment, Mr. Ross also stated that Money Now 21 Funding would first register Purchaser A's limited liability company with the Arizona Corporation Commission and 22 provide her with a personal account, or log-in page, through the Money Now Funding website. Through this personal 23 account, Money Now Funding would then send Purchaser A 4,000 "leads," or the names of businesses that she could 24 contact and attempt to have them apply for a loan from Money Now Funding. In addition to these business leads,
Money Now Funding would provide Purchaser A with extensive training on how to operate her business and conduct

1 sales calls. Mr. Ross told Purchaser A that if she purchased the business leads from him, then he would help her 2 contact the listed businesses, and he stated that he would provide her with training as well.

3 10. Mr. Ross stated that Purchaser A could make money three different ways: Money Now Funding would pay
4 Purchaser A $25.00 for every business that she contacted that applied for a loan from Money Now Funding; Purchaser
5 A would receive a percentage of the actual loan that Money Now Funding made to a small business that Purchaser A 6 contacted; and Money Now Funding would pay Purchaser A if she recruited other people that she knew to become a 7 Money Now Funding agent.

8 11. Mr. Ross encouraged Purchaser A to look through the Money Now Funding website, 9 <http://moneynowfunding.com>. Under the "Opportunity" tab of the website, Money Now Funding made the following 10 representations about working as a Money Now Funding agent: "Be your own boss," "No experience needed," and 11 "Earn thousands monthly." This page also contained an "Income Calculator," which provided the user with his or her 12 "Potential Monthly Income" based on the number that the user entered as the "# of business you want to refer each 13 month."

14 12. Purchaser A told Mr. Ross that she could not afford to lose any money towards this business, and Mr. Ross 15 assured Purchaser A that she could make $2,000 a month and recoup her investment within one year.

16 13. On July 06, 2012, Purchaser A paid Legal Dox $499 via credit card to establish and register her limited
17 liability company in Arizona and to create her own personal account, or log-in page, through the Money Now Funding 18 website. Then, on August 16, 2012, Purchaser A paid US Doc Assist via credit card a total of $20,000 for Money Now 19 Funding to provide her with business leads and training.

20 14. After these transactions, Purchaser A was able to download the list of 20,000 business leads through her 21 account on the Money Now Funding website. Upon reviewing the business leads, Purchaser A noted that the list 22 contained a large amount of duplicative business leads. Additionally, no one from Money Now Funding ever contacted 23 Purchaser A to arrange for her training. Purchaser A attempted, unsuccessfully, to contact a Money Now Funding 24 representative several times to address these issues, and she eventually requested that Money Now Funding refund her 25 payment, but no one from Money Now Funding ever accommodated her request. The phone numbers for Money Now Funding no longer work, and Purchaser A has yet to receive a response to nearly every email that she has sent the company. Money Now Funding recently deleted Purchaser A's account on the Money now Funding website, and US
Doc Assist and Legal Dox recently entered into an Assurance of Voluntary Compliance Agreement with the Oregon Department of Justice to resolve alleged violations of Oregon's Unlawful Trade Practices Act. To date, Purchaser A has yet to receive any payment from the Respondents.

23 Failure to Provide a Disclosure Document

24 15. In connection with the offer and sale of the Money Now Funding business opportunity, the Respondents all 25 failed to provide the prospective purchaser with a disclosure document as required by RCW 19.110.070.

Misrepresentations and Omissions

16. The Respondents failed to provide the basis or assumptions for their claim that Purchaser A could make $2,000 a month and recoup her investment within one year or that purchasers of the Money Now Funding business opportunity could “earn thousands monthly.”

17. The Respondents failed to disclose the basis upon which they claimed that they had the ability and resources to provide Purchaser A with training on how to operate Purchaser A’s own business and conduct sales calls.

18. The Respondents failed to disclose the basis or assumptions underlying the claim that the business leads that Money Now Funding and US Doc Assist provided to Purchaser A would enable Purchaser A to earn money.
