On May 6, 2020, the Securities Administrator of the Securities Division of the Department of Financial 11 Institutions ("Securities Division") issued a Statement of Charges and Notice of Intent to Enter Order to Cease 12 and Desist, to Impose Fines, and to Charge Costs ("Statement of Charges"), Order Number S-19-2811-20-13 14 SC01, against Respondents Pinnacle Lending LLC; Waln Team Funding LLC; Paul DeLette Waln Jr.; and Tamara Christine King Pursuant to the Securities Act of Washington, RCW 21.20, the Securities Division 15 16 and Respondent Paul DeLette Waln Jr. do hereby enter into this Consent Order in settlement of the matters 17 set forth in the Statement of Charges and as alleged below. Respondent Paul DeLette Waln Jr. neither admits, nor denies the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law as stated below. 18

FINDINGS OF FACT

Respondents

1. Pinnacle Lending LLC ("Pinnacle") is a Washington entity formed on April 28, 2016 that had its principal place of business in Bellevue, Washington. Pinnacle was in the business of raising funds for real estate construction and remodeling projects. HTI Wealth LLC was the managing member of Pinnacle.

2. Waln Team Funding LLC ("Waln Team Funding") is a Washington entity formed on June 18, 2018 that had its principal place of business in Bellevue, Washington. Waln Team Funding was in the business of raising funds for real estate construction and remodeling projects. Waln Team Funding was a successor to Pinnacle.

3. Paul DeLette Waln Jr. ("Waln") resided in Bellevue, Washington during at least 2017 and 2018. Waln was a principal of Pinnacle and Waln Team Funding. According to his LinkedIn profile, Waln is an "industry expert with more than 25 years of successful experience in real estate." Waln is also named as a Respondent in another Washington Securities Division Statement of Charges, Case No. S-20-2881 for Halcyon Apartments CC4R, LLC. On October 10, 2018, Waln filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy, which was discharged on January 9, 2019.

Tamara Christine King ("King"), formerly Tamara Waln, resided in Bellevue, Washington 4. from at least 2016 through 2019. King was a principal of Pinnacle and Waln Team Funding. For more than 15 years, King has been a real estate agent. On December 27, 2019, King filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy, which was discharged on March 25, 2020.

Nature of the Conduct

Overview

5. From at least September 2016 through June 2019, Pinnacle, Waln Team Funding, Waln, and King offered and sold promissory note investments that were issued by Pinnacle and Waln Team Funding. The investments totaled more than $425,000 and were sold to at least four Washington investors, including a $300,000 investment in September 2016 from an affiliated Washington limited liability company (Halcyon Apartments CC4R, LLC) that was operated by Waln and King. In November 2019, King sent the investors a letter notifying them that their money was gone and that the companies, Pinnacle and Waln

23

Team Funding, were closing their operations. The investors were shocked to learn that their investment was gone.

Pinnacle Investment Offering

In-Person Solicitation

6. During 2017, Waln offered a Pinnacle promissory note investment to an investor by email. In a March 10, 2017 email, Waln misleadingly stated that "[W]e have created an opportunity to provide an outstanding alternative to short-term, fixed-rate investments like CD's and T Bills." Waln misleadingly compared low-risk investments with the high-risk Pinnacle investment, while falsely claiming that Pinnacle was offering a safe investment. The email also touted a "closed-end fund" of $14 million. Waln misleadingly compared the Pinnacle investment to a mutual fund and used a total offering amount that far exceeded the amount of money that was actually raised for the Pinnacle investment.

Public Solicitation

7. Pinnacle, Waln, and King offered Pinnacle investments through the Internet. During at least 13 February 2017, the Pinnacle website included an online investment offering brochure. The brochure stated 14 that investor funds would be used exclusively to provide short-term construction loans. The investor funds 15 would be pooled to make loans to Echelon Luxury Homes LLC. The investments would be secured by a 16 17 Deed of Trust against the real property being developed and the construction loans would not exceed a 60% loan-to-value ratio. The brochure stated that Pinnacle was offering a "special incentive" by promising a 18 "fixed-rate return of 8%" to clients who invested the next $4 million out of the $14 million that Pinnacle 19 20 was trying to raise. Later investors would receive a return of only 6%. The investment would have an initial term of 18 months and could be extended by mutual agreement for an additional 12 months multiple 22 times. The brochure misleadingly emphasized the "safety" of the investment and stated that there was "little 23 or no" investor time commitment required. The investors had no control over the use of their invested funds and did not participate in the operation of Pinnacle or Waln Team Funding. The investors were relying on the Respondents to generate a return on the investments.

Sale of a Pinnacle Investment

8. In May 2017, following email investment solicitations by Waln, Pinnacle sold a $25,000 investment. The investor received a promissory note that was issued by Pinnacle and signed by Tamara Waln (now King), on behalf of HTI Wealth LLC, the manager of Pinnacle. The note had an 18-month term and called for 8% annual interest. The investor also received a Deposit Agreement. The Deposit Agreement had a format that was similar to a bank account statement. The Deposit Statement included contact information for the investor and stated the rate of return, the term of the investment, and the maturity date of the investment.

Waln Team Funding Investment Offering

In-Person Solicitation

9. During May 2018, Waln offered Waln Team Funding investments to investors who attended a "free" dinner meeting at a downtown restaurant in Bellevue, Washington. Waln conducted the meeting or meetings and gave a presentation about Waln Team Funding's promissory note investments. Waln misleadingly represented that Waln Team Funding was offering a safe investment that would pay 8% interest for an initial term of 18 months. Waln failed to disclose that the Walns' real estate sales company, The Waln Team, Inc., was delinquent in paying its office rent and had received a notice to pay rent or vacate the premises. Waln and King were each guarantors for the office lease.

Public Solicitation

10. Waln Team Funding, Waln, and King solicited additional investments through an Internet offering on the company's website. In June 2019, the website stated that Waln Team Funding's "construction lending fund" was "currently capped" at $7 million. The Respondents failed to disclose that

CONSENT ORDER

Waln Team Funding was the successor to Pinnacle and that collectively the two companies had only raised approximately $125,000 from three outside investors over the past two years. The Respondents also failed to disclose that the Walns' real estate sales company, The Waln Team, LLC, was delinquent in paying its office rent and had received a notice to pay rent or vacate the premises. Waln and King were each guarantors for the office lease.

Sale of Waln Team Funding Investments

11. In May 2018, following the in-person solicitation by Waln, Waln Team Funding sold two of its investments. The investors each invested approximately $50,000. The Waln Team Funding investors received the same type of promissory note as the Pinnacle investor, except the issuer of the promissory note was Waln Team Funding. Both of the promissory notes were signed by King. The Waln Team Funding investors also received the same type of Deposit Statement as the Pinnacle investor, except the issuer of the Deposit Statement was Waln Team Funding.

Omissions of Material Fact

When offering and selling the Pinnacle and the Waln Team Funding promissory note 12. investments, the Respondents each failed to disclose material information about the investments. They failed to disclose that there was no required minimum offering amount and no escrow of investor funds, so the funds could be expended immediately without completing a particular project. They failed to provide title reports and valuations for the real property that was supposed to secure the investment. They failed to provide financial statements and operating history information for the note issuers, Pinnacle and Waln Team Funding. They failed to provide financial statements and operating history information for Echelon Luxury Homes LLC, the identified borrower. They failed to disclose that investors would be dependent upon a few key individuals. The Respondents also failed to disclose that Waln had suffered significant financial losses

2. Paul DeLette Waln Jr. ("Waln") was the Chief Executive Officer of Halcyon's managing member, HTI Wealth Creation Group, Inc., which became inactive on July 1, 2015 and was administratively dissolved. For more than 25 years, since June 1993, Waln has been licensed to sell real estate in the state of Washington. On October 10, 2018, Waln filed for chapter 7 bankruptcy, which was discharged on January 9, 2019. Waln is also named as a Respondent in another Washington Securities Division Statement of Charges, Case No. S-19-2811 for Pinnacle Lending LLC and Waln Team Funding LLC.

Nature of the Conduct

Overview

3. During 2009 and 2010, Halcyon and Waln offered and sold a total of $1.9 million worth of Halcyon LLC membership interest investments to more than 25 investors, most of whom were Washington residents. Originally, the investment was supposed to have a term of ten years. The investor funds were supposed to be pooled to purchase real properties. Waln told Halcyon investors to expect returns of 12%. Some of the investors were relying on their Halcyon investment for retirement income. Several of the investors used retirement fund accounts, such as Individual Retirement Accounts or 401(k) accounts, to purchase their investments. The investors did not have any control over the use of their invested funds. The investors were relying on Halcyon and Waln to purchase, remodel, and rent or resell real properties to generate a return on their investment. Each year, the investors received Form K-1 income tax statements. The 2018 K-1 statements, which were not delivered to investors until June 2019 or later, reported a significant overall increase in the value of the investments. In October 2019, Halcyon investors were shocked to learn that their investments were completely gone, and that they would receive no return of either principal or interest.

Halcyon Investment Offering

4. Waln was a Washington realtor. He met many of the Halcyon investors through real estate dealings and through public seminars that Waln conducted for real estate investors. Waln held at least one public seminar to offer Halcyon investments. Waln also sent direct mail solicitations and published Internet advertisements for Halcyon investments.

5. During 2009 and 2010, Halcyon and Waln offered and sold 76 Halcyon LLC membership units for $25,000 each, for a total of $1.9 million. As compensation for structuring the investment and for managing Halcyon, Waln's company, HTI Wealth Creation Group, Inc. (the managing member of Halcyon), received nine LLC units of Halcyon.

6. When offering and selling the Halcyon investments, Halcyon and Waln provided investors with a private placement memorandum ("PPM"). The PPM states that Halcyon LLC units were being sold pursuant to a Regulation D exemption. However, because Halcyon and Waln publicly solicited Halcyon investments and advertised the sale of the LLC units, the Halcyon investment offering did not qualify for a private placement exemption under Regulation D. In addition, it appears that Halcyon never filed any claim of exemption with the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission or the Washington Securities Division.

Registration Status

7. Halcyon is not currently registered to sell its securities in the state of Washington and has not previously been so registered.

8. Waln is not currently registered as a securities salesperson or broker-dealer in the state of Washington and has not previously been so registered.

Based upon the above Tentative Findings of Fact, the following Conclusions of Law are made:
